Mental health issues in unaccompanied refugee minors in Austria

The present lecture will start with a description of the legislative situation of unaccompanied refugee minors in Austria. Second, it will provide an overview of their current living situation. This will primarily cover aspects of housing, education, recreation and their financial situation. As a third part of the lecture, study results related to mental health issues of unaccompanied refugee minors in Austria will be presented. These will cover the whole range of psychopathology, personality aspects as well as a qualitative methodological approach towards their trauma narratives.
